The Big Futures Show is made possible largely through the generosity of businesses, organisations, local authority and charitable grant funding. Generosity not just in funds but in considerable contributions of time and effort. The charge made for visitors is a nominal contribution toward the cost of staging the event. However if visits are booked but fail to be taken up this will reflect badly on the event and the viability of future events. Consequently, in the case of booked visits not being taken up, EEBP reserve the right to invoice the whole pro rata cost attributable to the number of visitors that failed to attend.

Parents and other visitors are welcome to attend the Big Futures Show between 09:30 and 16:30.
